Mai i te Kopae ki te Urupa, tatou ako tonu ai - From the cradle to the grave, we are forever learning.

Following on from last week's information about the Northern Porirua Kahua Ako of which St Theresa's is a part, here are some of the details about the leadership and the positions currently held. At St Theresa's we have 1 Within School Teacher (WSTs) position that is shared by Jo Beasley and Pauline MacLean. Jo and Pauline shared the portfolios of Innovation and Culture.

Leadership: Our foundation Lead Principal, Bradley Roberts, has just completed his two year term. Bradley has done a great job of building connections and relationships across our Kāhui Ako. We have really benefited from his approachable and flexible leadership style. Thank you Bradley for laying the foundations of our community of learning.

Lead Principal: Mark Smith is the new Kāhui Ako Lead Principal. Mark is excited about bringing more structure and focus to the work we are doing so we can build rich learning opportunities for our children on the strong relational foundation that has already been laid. You can contact Mark at mark@papakowhai.school.nz.

Across School Teachers (ASTs): We have five across school teachers who can provide mentoring, resources, connections and support for learners in schools. ASTs are released 0.4 to work in schools. Teachers and principals can contact ASTs directly.

Catherine Collins Catherine is the HOD of Art at Aotea College. She supports learners and teachers in our Well-Being and Pathways workstreams, particularly in the Arts and is establishing a network for SENCo.

Anthony Urwin Anthony is a teacher of Māori at Aotea College. He supports learners and teachers in our Well-Being and Pathways workstreams, particularly in Te reo me ngā tikanga Māori and is establishing a student cultural leadership group.

Rachel Berney Rachel is a teacher at Discovery School. She supports learners and teachers in our Well-Being and Pathways workstreams, particularly with Early Childhood transitions and is establishing a student cultural leadership group.

Mark Hughes Mark is a teacher at Adventure School. He supports learners and teachers in our Innovation workstream, particularly with digital learning.

Tom Fanning Tom is a teacher of Science at Aotea College. He supports learners and teachers in our Innovation workstream, particularly with science.

Each school also has Within School Teachers (WSTs) aligned to our workstreams. Schools manage this resource independently.

Next week I will share information on what's currently happening in the 3 work streams across schools.

In today's Gospel, Jesus explains how in Heaven there is no "limited number" but in order to get there, already in this life we must pass through the "narrow gate": loving God and our neighbour. And this is not easy! - Pope Francis

22nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

People with great imaginations are not out of touch with reality; they see possibilities beyond the existing reality. Jesus often used parables to teach about the Kingdom of God, inviting us to use our imaginations to see people, life, and the world in new ways. In today's Gospel, Jesus challenges us to see things differently.

What wonderful support we have received for our Daffodil Day fundraising efforts this year. Thanks to everyone who has donated and participated in some way. Don't forget that tomorrow is YELLOW MUFTI DAY for a gold coin.

Staff yellow morning tea

We supported the Cancer Society's fundraiser by hosting our own morning tea - the treats were endless and thoroughly enjoyed by all.
